BACHELOR OF ARTS	2021	Yes	MBA-HR (IIM Amritsar)	While pursuing MBA, we come across a variety of subjects that include topics learnt during our BA course. We had a macro as well micro economics subjects which were better understood because of the base that I learnt in BA third year. A ton of sociology and psychology concepts are taught and applied in Human Resources subjects and my UG knowledge on these subjects provide a strong base to understand the field better as well as become a moral, knowledgeable and responsible HR professional.		Most of our curriculum was purely theoretical in nature. More inclusion of practical applications and field visits would help students better understand the topics as well as be more interested in them. Also conducting more industry talks would help students interact with experienced professionals, gain useful insights and wisdom from them, as well as get a sense of what they're going to encounter in the future and be even more prepared for it. Encouraging more clubs/committees/cells to be formed would also benefit students by encouraging a collaborative culture.
